GUARD DOUBLED ABOUT BUCKINGHAM PALACE FEMALE VOTERS ARE FLOCKING TO MORGAN COURTHOUSE

WOMEN CONTINUE
RUSH TO REGISTER
ON SECOND DAY OF QUALIFYING PERIOD
Two Hundred and Sixty Women
Registered on the Opening Day.
MEN ALSO ALLOWED TO REGISTER, PAY POLLS
May be Last Chance to Register
Prior to January of 1922.

The second day of the registration period was begun in the Twin Cities today with another large crowd of women waiting to qualify themselves for the ballot. Two hundred and sixty were registered, the opening day, Chairman L. E. McGregor announced. At noon today nearly a hundred more had been added to the voters rolls of Morgan County, indicating a healthy interest in citizenship among the local women.

Registration of as near 100 per cent of the qualified female voters of the Twin Cities as possible is the goal which has been set here. The registration board will be in session until October 26, inclusive.

Registration Important
In addition to casting their ballots in the senatorial and presidential elections in November, on the same date, the Morgan County women will vote on the $440,000 good roads bond issue.

The petition for the bond issue was filed several weeks ago by the Albany Chamber of Commerce and the election was called later by the Board of Revenue for November 2. Ballots will be cast in the same booths as those in the senatorial and presidential elections are voted.

An active campaign in behalf of the issue is being conducted in all sections of the county and it is planned later to have speakers discuss the subject in several communities.

Ends Here

October 26 will bring to a close the registration period in the county for the current year. Women will have no other opportunity to qualify prior to 1922, unless the books are opened on special order in July, 1921, it was pointed out.

Women are not required to pay poll taxes in order to vote in November, it was stated, but they are required to pay polls before February 1 in order to vote next year. Registration is required, whether polls have been paid or not.

Men Can Register
While the books were opened during the October period, under an act passed by the special session of the legislature, primarily for the purpose of registering women, men also are allowed to register, it was stated. The same qualifications applying to women, in regard to the payment of polls also applies to men, with the exception that men are required to pay their polls before voting this year.

LOCAL SINGER WINS FAME IN GLOBE CONCERTS IN NEW YORK

MISS MARGARET CLARKSON IS HAILED AS COMING STAR BY MUSICAL PUBLICATION.

Miss Margaret Clarkson, beloved local singer, is winning fame in New York, musical center of America, according to a current issue of the Musical Courier, one of the conservative and standard musical publications in this country. The opinions of the publication are held in high esteem in musical circles of America.

The Courier says of Miss Clarkson: Dudley Buck's Pupil Star.

It is truly said that the joy of the master is in the success of his pupil. Dudley Buck should feel very happy indeed. The Buck studios in West 67th street, New York, are the scenes of many and varied activities and from the many artistic pupils of this pedagogue come word of their success.

The Courier continues "As soloist at the Globe concerts in New York, Margaret Clarkson, of Albany, Ala., is delighting the large cosmopolitan audiences."

Miss Clarkson will remain in New York, studying under Buck, until next January. News of her phenomenal success there will be received with a great deal of pleasure throughout North Alabama where she has a wide circle of friends.

MALONE COMPANY ADDS THE BUICK TO LINE OF CARS

Announcement was made today by the Malone, Coal, Grain and Motor Company that it had added the Buick to its line of automobiles handled in the local field. Their line now consists of the Cadillac, Buick and Chevrolet cars.

The Buick has the reputation of being one of the best cars of its class on the automobile market and its addition to the Malone line, gives that company a very complete stock of high grade automobiles.

CITY COUNCIL IN EARLY MEETING

ALDERMEN GATHER EARLY IN ORDER TO ATTEND CHAMBER
COMMERCE BANQUET

All the city council were present at last evening's meeting, with the exception of Alderman Buck. President of the Council Cline, who has been acting Mayor in the absence from the city of Mayor Payne, presided. The street committee made a partial report, and in this connection a resolution was passed asking that the engineer and contractor for the new street paving be in attendance at the regular meetings of the council. Reports were had from the Property Committee and the Finance committee. The last named, presented the budget of expenses for the ensuing year.

The petitions were presented to the council, one by the men and the other by the women of South Albany, asking that the recently opened pool room on 4th Ave. South, have its license revoked not later than January 1, 1921. Five women made stirring speeches in presenting their petition, which were heartily cheered. The council gave considerable attention to a recent accident which occurred on 9th Street South in which a little girl's leg was broken. The gist of the speeches made concerning the accident, warned that each auto driver observe the speed limit set by law, and keep well to the right at all times. The council adjourned early so as to allow some of its members to attend a supper at the Chamber of Commerce.

POWER COMPANY OPENS AN OFFICE ON BANK STREET

A store building adjoining the building occupied by Sam Frank, on Bank street has been leased by the Alabama Power Company and the Decatur office will be moved there about November 1, according to an announcement made today by T. L. Beauchamp, manager of the Albany-Decatur operations.

The office, hereafter, has been consolidated with the office of T. E. Pride, on Bank street.

"The growth of our own business and that of Mr. Pride made necessary more room," Mr. Beauchamp stated, "so the new building has been leased and our equipment ordered. We expect to have our new office open and ready for business about November 1. It will be in charge of W. B. Williams."

HARDING IS HEARD BY GREAT CROWD

(International News Service)
JACKSON, O., Oct. 20.—Speaking this afternoon to a great gathering of people at an old fashioned barbecue, Senator Warren G. Harding charged the Democratic administration with "grotesque inefficiency" and "prodigious waste" in its conduct of the nation's affairs.

Every one in America, he said, has been made to pay dearly for the administration's mistakes. The audience which Senator Harding found here was one of the largest he has faced in his campaign. Preliminary estimates of the crowd ran as high as 50,000.

TEN ARE KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

HARTSELLE ROAD TO BE COMPLETED IN FOUR MONTHS, BULLARD DECLARES

Highway Will be Open to Travel at All Times, Superintendent Says.

SIXTEEN TRUCKS ARE ENGAGED IN THE WORK

Highway Camp for Road Builders
Has Been Established at Flint.

Work on the Hartsville pike will be completed within four months, if weather conditions do not prevent. This assurance was given the people of Morgan County today by J. E. Bullard, superintendent of the task of finishing the road, under the direction of the state highway department.

The further assurance was given that the road, at all times, will be open to traffic.

"I promise the people of Morgan County," Mr. Bullard stated, "that the highway will be completed within four months, provided weather conditions do not prevent. The road, at all times, will be open for travel to and from."

Work Begun
Work already has been started on the road and before the end of the week 16 trucks will be hauling material from the old Louisville and Nashville right-of-way to the highway.

The trucks were given to the state and transferred to the county by the United States government free of charge. They were a part of the war equipment turned over to the state in accordance with congressional acts to aid the construction of roads in the nation.

Will be Rushed
"We expect to rush all of the work on the road to complete the highway as soon as possible," Superintendent Bullard declared. "We want to get through before he final winter season begins."

The construction of the highway has long been a thorn in the side of the good roads program of this section. Two attempts already have been made to complete the road, without success. A section of it has been built and is now in use, but several miles remain to be constructed.

A highway camp has been established at Flint and more than half a hundred men, employed on the road, are making their homes in the camp.

TENNIS TIDWELL SPEAKS AT SCHOOL

At the morning session of the School of citizenship today, Tennis Tidwell made a most interesting address on "The Judiciary" and "Municipal Government." The instruction of the local men is of very great value to the women.

Mrs. Mechin explained "what persons have a Right to Citizenship." This was supplemented by a talk on "Americanization" by Mrs. C. W. Black, District Secretary of the W. C. T. U.

The closing session will be at 7:30 tonight.

Judge L. P. Troup will discuss "Election Laws" and conduct a Voting Demonstration in addition to an address by Mrs. Mechin.

PLANS FOR CLEANER CITY PRESENTED AT BANQUET, SPEAKERS POINT OUT THE NEED

Interesting Discussion of Local Health Conditions Given
Last Night.

BASEBALL LEAGUE PLAN GIVEN ENDORSEMENT

Citizens Urged to Prevent Scattering of Shavings on Streets.

Albany is to be a cleaner city in the future, that is if the Albany Chamber of Commerce has anything to say about it, for at one of the largest attended of the series of banquet meetings last night, measures were freely discussed to this effect. The principal discussion at the meeting was the health conditions of the city which was brought out in a very forceful manner by Dr. B. F. Austin who was recently appointed Health Officer for Morgan County.

The meeting was called to order at 7:00 o'clock by Rev. W. P. McGlawn who acted as toastmaster. After the excellent banquet had been served by the ladies of the Central Methodist Church, Rev. McGlawn introduced Dr. Austin. In his address, Dr. Austin went into detail as to the condition of the health in Albany, explaining that the failure of Albany to win the prize in the "Clean-Up" campaign recently conducted throughout the United States was attributed to the fact that Albany has many unsanitary toilets and that the unsanitary condition of the alleys in the business section also was to blame. Dr. Austin then went into detail as to some of the work which the Health Department has accomplished in the past few months, pointing out that many unsanitary conditions have been made sanitary, and that the work of the health department would be vigorously pushed until every unsanitary condition in Morgan County was thoroughly investigated and the proper steps taken towards getting rid of them.

Shavings Condemned
One of the most interesting points brought out in Dr. Austin's address was the condemning of the shavings scattered over the streets and side walks of the city. Dr. Austin declared that this was an ugly sight and that it is also very dangerous in view of the fact that the gratings along the sidewalks become filled with these shavings and that should anyone accidentally throw a lighted match in them it would possibly cause a fire which would do considerable damage.

On the other hand he said, these shavings, are swept from the sidewalk and get into the sewers and in many cases have clogged up the sewers which is the cause of very unhealthy conditions.

Dr. Austin urged a crusade against the shavings, urging the citizens to appeal to the civic pride of those responsible with hopes of getting rid of this alleged disease carrying trash.

The business men of the city were urged to take a greater pride in the appearance of the alleys back of the business section, the speaker declaring that some of the alleys are in a most deplorable condition on account of trash and rubbish being thrown in them with no precaution whatever as to the unhealthy part of it. He urged the business men to burn all waste paper in wire baskets which would prevent the paper being blown to all parts of the city, especially to prevent it from blowing to the streets.

Dr. Austin covered many other points in his address and appealed to

SANS BEDDING, LOCAL FAMILY LIES ON STRAW

An appeal for any articles of clothing, bedding or furniture was issued today by the Home Service Section of the Red Cross for the relief of a stricken family discovered this morning.

The family resides not far from the edge of the city limits and includes the aged father, his wife, two young children, his daughter and her baby. One son, aged 15, is practically the sole support of the family, the daughter's husband having left her, according to reports made to the Red Cross.

The home is without any furniture, the occupants sleeping on sacks filled with straw, the Red Cross announced. There are no windows, no doors and part of the roof of the house has fallen in. The windows and doors, long since have rotted away, the Red Cross stated.

Citizens were urged to respond liberally to the appeal for aid for the unfortunate people. The family recently moved here from Jasper.

WILSON PROMISED MILITARY HELP IS VIEW OF PREMIE

PARIS, Oct. 20.—(Copyright 1920 by International News Service)—Former President Bratiano, of Roumania, joined the controversy between President Wilson and Senator Spencer today with the announcement that the American president, at the eighth plenary session of the peace conference, promised to send the American army and the American fleet to Europe to guarantee the treaty.

M. Bratiano telegraphed his version of the incident to the Paris bureau of the International News Service from Bucharest. As the former Roumanian premier was directly addressed by President Wilson, he was asked to give his personal account of the matter. He took occasion to assail President Wilson and his collaborators for "dictating the peace treaty."

COX MAY INSIST ON SPOKESMEN'S NAME

(International News Service.)
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 20.—Governor Cox will ask Senator Harding to reveal the identity of the "spokesmen" of France who approached him on the subject of the proposed new "association of nations." The governor made this statement today following publication of the report that Harding headquarters had denied Maurice De Kabra, Parisian humorist and journalist, had been granted an interview by Senator Harding.

In a previous statement Governor Cox had asked Senator Harding if the spokesman in question was not De Kabra.

"So they say it was not De Kabra," said the governor upon being shown the Marion dispatch in which the Harding publicity agent was quoted as saying Senator Harding had never heard of him until yesterday.

"Well then, we will just ask the Senator who it was," Cox retorted and suggested that a trap had been laid for the Republican nominee and intimated his intention of pressing his demand until a statement is forthcoming from the Senator.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Police measures were taken today to guard Buckingham palace from attack by unemployed. Warned by the gigantic demonstration in Downing street Monday afternoon, Scotland yard has concentrated a heavy force of policemen about the palace.

(International News Service)
LONDON, Oct. 20.—Another outbreak of violence by striking Welsh coal miners was reported from Toney-tandy today. Five hundred strikers took part in a demonstration and sang the revolutionary song "The Red Flag". The fighting broke out when the police attempted to disperse them. The police were stoned and considerable damage was done to property.

Finally the police charged with riot sticks and the strikers were put to flight. Declarations by officials at the opening session of parliament have failed to bring a solution of the national coal strike any nearer than it was yesterday. The Manchester Guardian announces it has learned that Premier Lloyd George has been informed the railway employees probably will strike in sympathy with the coal miners. A meeting of the executive committee of the national union of railway men was held today to consider the advisability of extending the strike to the railroads.

There were persistent reports of a fresh movement toward peace in the coal fields. The Evening Standard said that it was possible that a series of conferences would be opened this afternoon with the Federation of Miners, the colliery owners and the government represented. The attitude of the government already has been made plain by Premier Lloyd George, who said that the logical settlement would be to grant a wage increase, conditional upon an increase in production.

There was a big increase in enforced idleness in the industrial districts during the past 24 hours, as a result of the coal strike. It is now intimated that 1,600,000 men and women are jobless, either directly or indirectly, due to the strike.

The Irish situation, which has now reached the climax of its seriousness was taken up in the house of commons today. Arthur Henderson, Laborite member, gave notice that he would demand an independent investigation on the grounds that conditions in Ireland have become so menacing as to justify it. Followers of former premier Asquith, the opposition leader, announced they would support such a motion. The promise of a statement on the Irish situation by Premier Lloyd George attracted an anxious crowd and the spectators galleries were jammed.

Heavy guards on foot and mounted police were maintained about Parliament building. The threats of further demonstrations by unemployed and by Irish sympathizers kept Scotland yard on the alert.

HOW ARE THE MIGHTY FALLEN
MR. TAFT CHANGES FRONT

Until the presidential campaign began to wax warm, and the records and sayings of public men began to be carefully scrutinized, there was never a thought as to the reliability and patriotism of William H. Taft. Of course, Mr. Taft was never taken very seriously, after the voters turned him down when he offered for a second term as President, but because of his friendliness toward President Wilson and his advocacy of many of the President's measures, the former Republican President was held in high esteem by the people generally. Nothing commended Mr. Taft more highly than his advocacy of the League of Nations. He was the President's confidential advisor when the league was finally agreed upon at Paris and when later it was submitted to the United States Senate for ratification. It was firmly believed that if the League had a staunch friend that man was William Howard Taft. But now this man has reversed himself.

In a recent speech, Taft said that he had been for the League, but that as the people did not seem to want it, therefore he would give it up and do all in his power to defeat it. How are the mighty fallen. What a flimsy childish excuse, for a so-called great statesman to make. Since when did Mr. Taft become such a strong believer in the superior wisdom of others than himself? Besides it is quite the thing for a great lawyer to discard all the legal arguments in favor of a covenant whose whole purpose is to establish law among nations, because he has decided some people want no such law?

To say the very least, Mr. Taft lays himself open to the charge of being a demagogue. In previous speeches the former President has shown a contempt for the power of the people. Taft asserted months ago that even if the Democrats won the presidential election, that a Republican Senate would kill the League of Nations. Another statement of Mr. Taft, which goes to show his disregard of the people's ability to control their government: He declared that even if the Republicans won, that they would go into the league of nations. In these statements, Taft showed that he believed that what ever the expressed will of the people at the polls was—the Republican Senate could and would defeat their will.

Perhaps this earlier reasoning of Mr. Taft too strongly supported the oft repeated contention of Governor Cox, that the Senate was attempting to nullify the House of Representatives, destroy the power of the Executive, and get possession at last of the Supreme court, and Republican managers ordered Taft to say something upholding the wisdom and power of the people.

Whatever explanation is given Mr. Taft's change of front, he has materially lowered himself in the estimation of the American people.

THE DEADLY PARALLEL

It is unfortunate for the Democratic chances in November that Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee, did not record all of his campaign utterances into a phonograph. The records would be of a great deal of interest to the American people. The wabbling senator from Marion has been forced, by "political expediency" to change his position on public questions, particularly the league of nations, more than once.

It is little wonder, however, that Harding seems unable to keep a firm footing on the shifting sands of circumstance, for one of the principal members of his general staff long has been affected with the same unbalance. Henry Cabot Lodge, who delivered the keynote speech for the Republican convention, and who thereby won undying fame for being able to use many words without saying anything, must answer to the indictment drawn against him in the following deadly parallel by The Nashville Tennessean.

The Tennessean says:
Henry Cabot Lodge at Union College, June, 1915:

Nations must unite as men unite, in order to preserve peace and order. The great nations must be so united as to be able to say to any single country, "You must not go to war," and they can say that effectively when the country desiring war knows that the force which the united nations place behind peace is irresistible. In differences between individuals the decision of a court is final, because in the last resort the entire force of the community is behind the court decision. In differences between nations which go beyond the limited range of arbitral questions, peace can only be maintained by putting behind it the force of united nations determined to uphold it and prevent war.

Henry Cabot Lodge, in an address before the League to Enforce Peace, May, 1916:

I know, and no one I think can know better than one who has served long in the Senate, which is charged with an important share of the ratification and confirmation of all treaties; no one can, I think, feel more deeply than I do the difficulties which confront us in the work which this league—that is, the great association extending throughout the country known as the League to Enforce Peace—undertakes, but the difficulties cannot be overcome unless we try to overcome them. I believe much can be done.

but it certainly will be possible to stop some wars, and thus diminish their number. The way in which this problem must be worked out must be left to this great subject the study which it deserves.

I know the obstacles. I know how quickly we shall be met with the statement that this is a dangerous question which you are putting into your agreement, that no nation can submit to the judgment of other nations, and we must be careful at the beginning not to attend too much.

I know the difficulties which arise when we speak of anything which seems to involve an alliance, but I do not believe that when Washington warned us against entangling alliances he meant for one moment that we should not join with the other civilized nations of the world if a method could be found to diminish war and encourage peace.

This league certainly has the highest of all aims for the benefit of humanity, and because the pathway is sown with difficulties is no reason that we should turn from it.

Henry Cabot Lodge at Providence, R. I., October 14, 1920:

The question the people will settle at the coming election is whether they are prepared to reject the great doctrines of Monroe and the American principles of Washington and become a part of the European system.

Washington carried out principles in what was known as the neutrality policy when the great war broke out between England and France. That policy, in a word, was to keep the United States out of the affairs of Europe and never make any permanent alliances with other nations. The necessary corollary was declared by Monroe in 1823 in the famous doctrine which bears his name, and that was that Europe should be kept out of the western hemisphere. But what is often overlooked is that Monroe, at the same time, restated the Washington policy that we should keep out of Europe. Those have become the American policies. This country has never departed from them from the days of Washington and Monroe to the present time.

Even Mr. Wilson recognized the force of these doctrines, for when we entered the war he made no treaties of alliance and he always officially referred to the powers who were also fighting Germany as the "powers associated with us in the war against Germany." But when he made his league he abandoned the policies of Washington and Monroe, under which we have so long lived and prospered as a nation. He asked the Senate to go with him in that abandonment and the Senate refused to do so.

It is not a league to promote peace. It is an alliance. It rests on force. It contemplates armies. It provides for war to be carried on by the members of the league, who are allies.

It appears from the above that Republican spokesmen, other than Candidate Harding, have assumed more than one position upon a League of Nations.

NORTH ALABAMA TOWNS
THAT HAVE FINE STREETS

Speaking of street paving undertaken by cities of the 10,000 to 15,000 population class, Florence, on the banks of the Tennessee, is furnishing an example of a thorough paving campaign which should be of interest and of value to all towns of its class that may be contemplating paving the streets. Florence has approximately ten miles of splendidly paved business and residence streets, with beautifully paved boulevards skirting the river bank and extending to the extreme north limits of the city. Residence, as well as business streets, are included in the Florence paving, and just within the past week a petition of property owners on a street that had not been paved, was presented to the city commissioners, asking that such work be done.

Another Tennessee valley city—Decatur—has well paved streets that include the principal residence streets leading from the business section, and Decatur's close neighbor, Albany, also has some splendidly paved streets. In fact all of the towns that are climbing into the city class take up street paving as one of the first steps to be taken in the forward move. Anniston long has been behind other ambitious Southern cities in this respect, and it therefore is gratifying that this city now is paving its most important streets.

If Anniston is to make a creditable showing with other Alabama cities of its class, the street paving here necessarily will have to be extended to include some of the more important residence streets. Just now the city's most used and prettiest residence streets are in bad shape, needing paving as much as the business streets. The campaign of city improvement that now is on should not cease when the present work in hand is completed. It should be possible to carry on the good work in a steady way without difficulty. The improvements are sadly needed and now that the work has been started it easily can be carried on.—Anniston Star.

It is to be hoped that on the night of November 2, Senator Harding will have a cellar to retire to.

COX IS THE MAN

Cox is the right man, at the right time, to be our next President of these United States. He is a man who is most competent in every respect and will make a dependable executive. He is a man endowed with that rare ability of seeing both sides of every question and therefore can be most fair in his judgment of just policies the Nation must adhere to, for the next four years, in order to bring about a peaceful equilibrium of progress in our national and international welfare.

In a previous write-up I said, two elements of humanity must be eliminated from the public concern of all nations if the World is to have lasting peace and prosperity. One element is composed of the reactionary legislators and the other is composed of the radical labor leaders. There are two ways of eliminating these elements. One way is to reform them into conservatives and the other is to reject them entirely. After the constituents of the reactionary legislators write to them or otherwise notify them to rescind their reactionary attitude in favor of conservatism and they fail to do so, they should be rejected with the next opportunity at the Polls. When the radical labor leader will not let go his or her radicalism for conservatism the unions can do nothing better than reject the membership of all such till they are willing to accept the conservative policy. But these changes cannot be made in a fortnight and this nation should be thankful that such a man is now before the people, (James M. Cox), who is able to discern correctly between the two extremes and set up harmony where chaos, industrial turmoil and governmental downfall now threatens.

Harding Position

In nearly all of Mr. Harding's speeches he has said that, "he is in favor of labor having a fair deal with capital and in favor of the farmer having the right of collective bargaining and a square deal" but in no case has he stated that he is in favor of "organized labor" and the organized farmers having any right to their organizations and to their efforts, now being put forth, to help organized labor to establish Democracy of industry. Labor in the United States, to Mr. Harding, is of no more consideration than the slave of '61, of no more consideration than the unskilled laborer of '93 who was imported into this fair country to break down and leavate the working standards of domestic labor, in order to lend aid to the capitalistic plutocrats of our country in their exploits of labor as a commodity. Today organized labor and the progressive farmers organizations mean no more, to Mr. Harding, the few reactionary democrats in Congress and the Wall street plutocrats, than the breaking down of all such organizations by the importation of one hundred thousand Chinese to the United States to take the place of the American working man, for less pay, if the present Republican Congress can have a Republican president to lead its dictates in such procedure.

Another Battle

Did these United States ever fight in vain? Will these United States ever fight in vain? Momentous question. Mothers, review the purpose for which your sons fought in the World war, fathers behold, the gallantry with which your sons went "over the top," will yours be their equal for Democracy at the Polls? On the day of Nov. 2, 1920, the last battle of the World war will be fought on the soil of these United States, with American ballots, with the patriotic men and women, of the Nation, to shout their undying victory or to mourn their ever lamentable defeat. Will the graves of the Martyrs of Democracy, in France, be a witness for or against the Act?

With Harding as the General, carrying the banner of Republicanism, in the interest of plutocracy, against the conservative progress of the World, with the exploiting capitalists, the reactionary legislators and the Kaiseristic German-American element as his staff, will friends of the United States Government cast their vote on the Republican side?

With Cox as the General, carrying the banner of Democracy, in the interest of the conservative progress of the World, with the progressive farmer, the conservative business man and banker, the justice claiming laborer and the peace loving progressive German-American element as his staff, will friends of the United States Government cast their vote on the Democratic side? Yes.

Since Napoleon's time, till the World war, the two great contending Powers of the World have been England and Germany. It was thought that the intermarrying of these nations would stop the contention but it did not, and today the World is different, made so by the World war, as a result of this contention. Now the two contending Powers of the World are Germany and the United States. Without the League of Nations these two will fight the conquests to contest the stability of the future forms of Governments of the World. With the League of Nations these two will become sister nations, with far less expense to either than another World contest, in the peaceful prosperity of all the World, and the United States will be recognized as the model Nation of Nations. The League of Nations gives the United States a right to a voice in the settlement of all the controversies of the nations of the World, subscribing thereto, while it still remains the Free and Independent United States of America.

Plea to Women

This is the Progressive Age. Can the American women afford to vote against Democracy and receive the condemnation of the World for the overthrow of World progress as did Eve in leading Adam to eat the Apple which overthrew the true purpose of mankind in the World? Let us hope they will not make the same mistake twice.

If Harding is elected President, we may expect the song of the Harding forces to be:

Turn backward, turn backward, O! time in your flight,
Till plutocratic reaction sets up such turmoil and industrial strife,
That the guns and bayonets of all nations will drip with the blood of the flight.

But,
When Cox is elected President, we can expect the song of the people to be:

Go forward, go forward, O! time in your flight,
Till progressive Democracy will fear no defeat,
When the heads of all nations will in harmony meet,
And the welfare of the World will dwell on peace and prosperity's loftiest heights.

Mr. W. R. Shelton, Manager,
Albany-Decatur Daily,
Albany, Ala.

Dear Sir:

You are certainly doing good work for the Democratic Fund. Your letter of October 16th enclosing check for $62.50 has been received by me. If every paper in Alabama would do the work that you are doing, there would be no fear that Alabama would reach her full quota expected for this worthy cause.

Again thanking you, and with best wishes, I am,

Very truly yours,

JOE SPARKS

Assistant Treasurer, Democratic National Committee.

Just In Passing

WINS DISTINCTION

Fred Shores has returned from Mobile, where he successfully passed the Alabama State board of Pharmacy. The examinations were held in that city on the 13 and 14th of this month. Mr. Shores was also one of the 45 out of 200 to pass the Georgia State Board held in Atlanta on the 4th and 5th of this month. The newly registered Pharmacist, has accepted a position with Dillehay Bros. Druggists of Albany.

Buckwheat in Europe.

In some part of continental Europe, buckwheat is a common crop, especially in northeastern Germany and in Brittany, France. In these districts the soil is rather poor, but in such soil buckwheat will thrive. When used as a human food in these countries, the flour is usually made into a pottage, in England buckwheat is little grown except as food for pheasants.

Skin Sufferers Do Not

Want Mere Temporary Relief

Of course, if you are content to have only temporary relief from the terrifying itching and burning of fiery, flaming skin diseases, then you are satisfied to remain a slave to ointments, lotions and other local remedies applied to the surface of the skin.

Real genuine relief from eczema, tetter, scaly eruptions or any other form of skin irritations cannot be expected until you free your blood of the germs which cause these disorders. And for this purpose there is no remedy that gives more satisfactory results than S.S.S., the fine old blood remedy that goes down to the source of every blood disorder and routs out the germs which cause the trouble.

S.S.S. is sold by all druggists. Begin taking it today, and if you will write a complete history of your case, our medical director will give you expert advice without charge. Address Chief Medical Adviser, 155 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

COTTON MARKET

OPENS STRONGER

FIRM CABLES REFLECTED BY EARLY RISE OF 35 TO 80
 POINTS

(International News Service.)
 NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—In sympathy with firm and much higher cables, the cotton market opened high today at an advance 35 to 80 points. Liverpool and shorts were large purchasers early, partly on a more hopeful view of the English coal situation, while the South sold. Spot concerns were on both sides of the market. Later the pressure of Southern wire house selling weakened the list about 30 points from the early high levels and at the end of the first 20 minutes the market was unsettled.

Goths Supplanted Finns.
 Prof. Paul O. Sindling, in his "History of Scandinavia," says: "On the entrance of the Goths into Scandinavia the land was inhabited by two reciprocally kindred nations, whose present names are the Laplanders and Finns. Both of them had come from the East, but the Laplanders were forced by the Finns up to the remotest parts of Norway and Sweden, where remains of them are yet to be found. The Finns themselves were, after a valiant resistance, forced back by the Goths, and their descendants at present live in Finland."

Sounds Like Hashimura's Work.
 Rule No. 2 for motorists in Japan runs as follows: "When a passenger of the foot heave in sight tootle the horn trumpet to him melodiously at first. If he still obstructs your passage tootle him with vigor and express by word of mouth the warning: 'Hi! Hi!'"—Boston Transcript.

When You Feel Out of Sorts and See Things with a Dull Eye

LOOK TO YOUR BLOOD

Pale Complexions, Languid Feelings,
 Lowered Vitality, Need More Red
 Blood. Take Pepto-Mangan

So many people spend week after week feeling down and out. They never stop to think that something really is the matter. They satisfy themselves by saying, "Oh, I'm not sick. I'll be all right tomorrow." And tomorrow comes again and again. Still they feel depressed and languid, scarcely able to get around.

If you don't feel like yourself, you are not yourself. If you are weak and pale, your blood needs strengthening. You should know about Pepto-Mangan, that famous blood tonic. Physicians recommend it and prescribe it because it contains just the ingredients needed to make red blood. It renews your energy, puts you where you ought to be. Begin with it today. Get the tablets if they will be more convenient to take than the liquid. Both have the same medicinal properties. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. Ask for "Gude's" and be sure that the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on the package. Advertisement.

VALUE OF LIMBS APPRAISED

Arrangement of Pension Lists in England Has Humorous as Well as Pathetic Aspect.

If the average man were asked to state the proportional value of his limbs, he would probably reply that such a task was as impossible to perform as it was ridiculous to set, but the pensions ministry have had to make such an assessment recently, remarks London Tit-Bits. A new order in council has stipulated the weekly pension to be allotted to men who have lost a limb, and the list has its humors as well as its pathetic aspect. Thus we find it more profitable to lose your leg at the thigh than above the knee; in fact, the place of amputation selected between the thigh and the knee may make a difference of 3s 6d a week. A leg taken off at the hip brings in a pension of 10s, a short thigh with pelvic band 14s, above the knee 12s 6d and below the knee 10s 6d. Pensions for the arm, too, have been measured by inches, the right arm carrying a value of 1s more than the left. Thus the right arm amputated at the shoulder carries with it a pension of 16s a week, above or through the elbow 14s and below 11s 6d. This rating suggests a problem. Why should the extent of amputation from elbow to shoulder vary as much as 2s, and from elbow downward only 2s 6d? The rising scale suggests that the lower half of the arm is worth less than the upper, a puzzle intensified by the fact that a man cannot lose the upper part without loss of the lower.

HOLDERS OF ROYAL WARRANT

Tradesmen in England Who Received This Mark of Favor Each Year Are Objects of Envy.

Once a year, in the New Year's Gazette, appears a long list of tradesmen who are holders of royal warrants. This list at the present time exceeds 1,200 names. Since the death of Queen Victoria considerably over 300 names have been added.

It is a privilege greatly coveted and much envied—this of the royal warrant, for it is not only lightly bestowed upon every tradesman who has supplied goods to his majesty's household. It is distinctively a mark of royal favor. Tit-Bits says, and to some extent a testimonial to the excellence of the purveyor's goods.

Its principal outward sign is the use of the royal arms over the shop front and upon the writing paper of the warrant holder, and it is an offense against the law for any person not being a warrant holder to use the arms. Apparently, however, its misuse is a common occurrence, for during recent years hundreds of cases of improper use have been dealt with by the Royal Warrant Holders' association.

The Novice's Mistake.

In Tales of Flying Services, Mr. C. G. Grey tells about a strange entry in the official report of an officer who had recently joined the service and was sent to pass a seaplane through its test for the English navy. He had to go up as a passenger with the constructor's pilot and to keep a log of what occurred during the test.

This is what he put down: "9:05 a. m., left ship. 9:10 a. m., altimeter shows 300 feet above sea. 9:12 a. m., curious phenomenon: Met a sea gull flying backward!"

That meant that the machine, flying at the rate of about 80 miles an hour, overtook a sea gull—which is not a fast flyer—going at about 40 miles an hour, and that up in the air without any background to give a proper sense of direction, the bird looked as if it were flying toward them tail first. Probably the officer knows better now. —Youth's Companion.

Boon to Indoor-Photographer.

The nitrogen-filled electric lamps have proven a boon to the indoor photographer. They are resorted to in various ways to secure improved results. It produces far more active rays than the ordinary incandescent light, and a room lighted by a 200-watt lamp can be photographed in a fraction of the time required with a light of the old style. In a room of ordinary size, with walls and ceiling of a medium tint, and with the camera stop open to No. 8 on the diaphragm scale, an exposure of from two to four minutes will be enough to get excellent interior views. Photographers now also use the gas-filled lamp in the daytime to illuminate dark corners and shadowy places when they are taking indoor views.

Electricity Routes Drudgery.

Domestic drudgery is being rapidly lessened by electricity. A recently invented electric scrubber cleans 5,000 square feet of floor in an hour, and this has been followed by an electric floor polisher that does in a few minutes work that often requires hours of arduous hand labor. The machine is connected to the nearest lamp socket. The wax being spread over the floor by the means provided, a heavy bristle brush making 3,000 revolutions per minute quickly gives a smooth and brilliant surface, with no aid except guiding over the floor.

The Difference.

"How would you answer the old question about the difference between a politician and a statesman?"

"I should say," replied Senator Sorghum, "that a politician tries to give people anything they want and a statesman tries to give them what they will approve of, after they've got it."

Free Governments.

All free governments, whatever their name, are in reality governments by public opinion, and it is on the quality of this public opinion that their prosperity depends.—Lowell.

"BEST OF LUCK" BOOKED
 AS GREAT ATTRACTION
 PRINCESS THURSDAY

The famous Drury Lane melodrama, "The Best of Luck," as pictured by Screen Classics, Inc., will be the feature of the program at the Princess Theatre beginning next Thursday for a run of one day. It is described as a thriller of the first water, replete with sensational adventures, hairbreadth escapes and daring deeds.

"The Best of Luck" tells a gripping story. The action revolves about a chest of jewels, once the property of a Spanish Queen, that lies at the bottom of the sea in a foundered galleon. Leslie MacLeod, a beautiful and courageous Scottish girl, is pitted against General Lanzetta, a wealthy and desperate Spaniard, who seeks to possess not only the lost treasure but Leslie herself.

Kathryn Adams, Jack Holt, Lillie Leslie and Fred Malatesta head the cast of stars presenting "The Best of Luck," and the notable support includes Frances Raymond, Emmett King, Robert Dunbar, Jack Underhill and Effie Conley.

"The Best of Luck" was written by Cecil Raleigh and Henry Hamilton. A. S. LeVino adapted it to the screen. Ray Smallwood directed the production.

"THE INVISIBLE DIVORCE" OPENS THE DOOR TO THE INNER LIVES OF HUNDREDS PRINCESS THEATRE TODAY

Beneath the veneer, the empty smiles, the tiny courtesies that society demands when man and wife are in public, sometimes there lies a current of misunderstanding and disillusionment that is all that human nature can bear. Stout hearts, proud hearts, oftentimes wrap the fragments of a blasted love in draperies of convention and the baffled recording angel of married life records another "Invisible Divorce."

Family pride sometimes rebels at thoughts of newspaper headlines and "picture stories"; thoroughbred nature revolt at having the pangs of their hearts portrayed on the printed page. So two people live on and on, superficially just another moderately happy married couple, secretly as divorced in spirit and body as any of the cases recounted in the press.

It is of this little known phase of the divorce evil that a new National picture called "The Invisible Divorce" depicts. The production is one that will create a sensation wherever shown. It already has attracted the attention of sociological students as presenting a side of this age-long problem that without the pale of their effectiveness, except possibly in the discouragement of youthful hasty weddings.

Some say that this class of "unseen decree" is the most numerous of all. Some say that Spartan fortitude still exists among what we call our better classes. At any rate, many will find the door to their inner lives opened by this daring play. It is to be shown at the Princess theatre today.

Fog in Financial Field—Houston

(International News Service)
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—"A heavy fog has settled down over the financial field," declared Secretary of the Treasury Houston today, addressing the convention of American Bankers Association.

"We still confront highly abnormal problems. What we need is more patriotism and less partisanship." The secretary placed himself on record as opposed to government aids for groups suffering from falling prices, opposed to the refunding of Liberty bonds or establishing a fixed price for those bonds.

"Scarcely had the tendency toward a reduction of the cost of living manifested itself, when counter forces began to operate," said the secretary. "Resistance on the part of the producer immediately manifested itself. Every producer is willing for the product of every other to fall, but protests the decline of his own."

Cox's Special Train Suffers Accident

(International News Service)
 WOONSOCKET, Mass., Oct. 20.—The engineer of Governor Cox's special train was forced to jump from the locomotive today when the flue burst, flooding the cab with scalding steam. With great presence of mind the engineer threw on the emergency brake before taking the plunge, the train coming to a stop within one hundred yards, with a regular passenger train 100 yards distant, flagged by a trainman.

The accident occurred between this city and Providence. After an hour's delay the engine of the regular train pulled the special into Blackstone, Mass., leaving the disabled engine and coach behind.

Plans for Cleaner City Are Presented

The members of the Chamber of Commerce and citizens for a greater cooperation with the health department in ridding Albany of all unhealthy conditions. In conclusion Dr. Austin commended the Chamber of Commerce for its activities along all lines, declaring that their efforts are creating the attention of all parts of the country.

Musical Program

The next feature of the meeting was a musical program which was rendered by Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Pickets which was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present for at the conclusion of the program the applause extended over a period of five minutes.

Resolutions Adopted.

Dr. F. L. Chenault was the next speaker introduced. Dr. Chenault covered many points which was brought out by Dr. Austin, declaring that the city council of Albany was interested in any move that meant a cleaner city, and at the conclusion of his address offered a resolution which was adopted without a dissenting vote. The resolution follows:

"RESOLVED, that it is the sense of the Albany Chamber of Commerce of Albany, Alabama, that we are in sympathy with all activities looking to a cleaner and more sanitary city.

"Resolved further, that we would approve an ordinance by the City Council requiring all garbage be canned, and that a small fee be charged to pay expenses of an efficient system of collecting and disposing of trash and garbage."

Chamber of Commerce Active

C. P. McDaniel, Secretary-Manager of the Chamber of Commerce, was the next speaker. Mr. McDaniel pointed out in his talk that the Chamber of Commerce was very active at the present time, pointing out many features which are now being undertaken by the organization and appealed to the entire membership for a greater cooperation in order that greater results can be accomplished.

Mr. McDaniel also stated that the officers and directors of the organization welcomed constructive criticism at all times and asked all members not to pay any attention to any criticism that was not based upon facts, declaring that criticism of this nature retards progress more than any other one thing.

Many other speakers were on the program, among whom was C. D. Patterson who made report of the bond election campaign. Mr. Patterson said that the committee felt very confident of the success of the election and appealed to every voter of the county to do everything possible looking to the success of the election.

Baseball Endorsed

Another important discussion at the meeting was the proposed baseball league which is being formed in the Tennessee Valley, in which Albany and Decatur will play a big part. This proposition was presented by the committee which is working up the team for Albany and Decatur. At the conclusion of the discussion the proposition was put to a vote and unanimously baseball was endorsed as being a good, clean, healthful sport and recreation and the baseball team for Albany and Decatur for 1921 was heartily endorsed by everyone present.

This ending the program for the meeting, it was announced that the date of the next regular meeting would fall on November 2, and in view of the fact that this will be election day, it was decided unwise to try to have a meeting on that date, so by an overwhelming vote it was decided to hold the next banquet meeting on November 9, at which time it is expected that an exceptional interesting program will be arranged in celebration of the passing of the road bond election.

A LETTER OF GENERAL PUBLIC INTEREST AND THE REPLY

The Following Correspondence is of Vital Interest to Every Telephone User, Present and Prospective

"New Orleans, La., October 12, 1920"

Mr. J. Epps Brown, President,
Bell Telephone Co.,
Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir:—

I have read the advertisements of your Company, but I do not understand why you must raise your rates now, when the prices of everything else are falling.

Will you please explain this?

Yours truly,

Atlanta, Ga., October 16, 1920

Mr. New Orleans, La.

Dear Sir:—

Your letter of October 12th asks a very natural question, and one which demands a full and frank reply, which I am glad to make.

While the prices of a great many things have, apparently, been reduced, these reductions in prices do not apply to articles used by the telephone company, or affect the expenditures necessary in the construction, maintenance and operation of the telephone plant.

The following classes of expenses constitute more than ninety-five per cent of the cost of furnishing telephone service:

Labor
More than fifty-five per cent of the total expenditures of the Company in rendering service are for wages and salaries; less than one-tenth of one per cent of this being for executive and general salaries.

The wages paid to our employees can not, and should not, be reduced. On the contrary they must be increased, in many cases, to bring our wage scale on a level with wages paid by unregulated businesses, so that we may retain our skilled employees necessary to give you efficient service.

Material and Apparatus
Many items of material and apparatus are involved in the current maintenance of the property, entirely apart from the enormous quantities involved in the construction of new property, and this represents a large item of expense.

There has been no reduction, nor any indication of reduction, in the price of these essential articles, in practically all of which the labor, freight and hauling cost is by far the largest proportion of the total cost.

We know that the manufacturers of telephone equipment and material have orders booked for two years in advance, with a constantly increasing demand, and which in turn makes a reduction in price in the near future most improbable.

Freight and Passenger Costs
Our annual expense for the transportation of freight and passengers is more than one million dollars. No one expects the railroads to reduce their charges under the level of costs in rendering their service.

Rent
Except in the larger centers our central offices and stocks of material are housed in rented buildings, and even in the larger centers we rent varying amounts of properties.

Like every one else, our rents have been greatly increased, with no prospect of any reduction. Even in pre-war days all leases for property occupied by us were renewed only at higher charges than for the previous rental period.

Hotels
The board and lodging bill for our men, who must travel in connection with the operation and maintenance of the property, costs many thousands of dollars every year, and we can see no prospect of the hotels lowering their charges. Until they do we must pay the present high charges.

Electric Power and Light; Street Car Fare

We spend many thousands of dollars every year for these services rendered to employees engaged in the maintenance of the property. Practically every year the rates charged by these companies have been substantially increased, and there is no thought of any reduction. The Telephone Company, like all others, must pay these increased rates.

Paper, Printing and Stationery

We consume tons of paper for book-keeping, correspondence and directory purposes, and pay many thousands of dollars for printing annually. This item of expense has increased in percentage more than the others, and no one has suggested that any reduction in these costs is probable.

Coal Bill.

The Telephone Company purchases coal in large quantities to heat the buildings occupied by its employees in rendering the service.

We, of course, must pay whatever price is necessary to secure the coal for this purpose.

Insurance

Even where the actual rate per one thousand dollars has not been increased, we are compelled to carry a larger amount of insurance than in pre-war days in order to protect ourselves in the reproduction of any of the property which may be destroyed by fire, and this is reflected in a very large increase in the total insurance bill.

Taxes

This expense, both Federal, State, County and City, has increased every year we have been in business; the increase this year being unusually high. There is no probability of this expense being reduced.

We do not pay any excess profit tax because we have never earned enough to be subject to that tax.

Buildings

It is common knowledge that the cost of erecting any kind of building now, as well as making alterations and repairs, which constantly confront the Telephone Company and which involve material, labor, freight and hauling, is on an enormously higher plane than ever before. Insofar as the cost of materials may be reduced will this total cost be reduced.

The only way we can furnish adequate facilities for your use from year to year is by constructing the buildings in which to house the central office apparatus in the larger centers; as well as enlarging existing buildings to serve the increased needs, and this work must be carried on from year to year without delay. This involves hundreds of thousands of dollars in expense to the Company.

There are, of course, many other items of expense, all of which are now at the highest level in prices, and none of which show any sign of reduction for fundamental reasons.

Until these necessary costs of operation are materially reduced we can not reduce the COSTS of furnishing telephone service.

We have carefully studied and analyzed the advertised reduction in prices and find that they are upon articles of which we make but little, if any, use. Applied to the telephone business all known reduction in prices would not reduce the cost of furnishing telephone service one twentieth of one per cent.

This is many times offset by the increase in wages which, in many places, we must make during the current year.

Our present operating revenues are practically equalled by our operating expenses. If the present let down in general business continues for any appreciable time we will lose a material part of the gross revenue now received, which will make a still higher rate necessary if a deficit is avoided.

We are not asking higher rates for the SAME SERVICE we furnished one, two or five years ago; but for a much GREATER SERVICE which we now furnish, consisting of facilities to add many additional telephones to our system during the past one, two and five years.

This fact should be considered when comparing the increase in rates we ask with the increase in the charges of railroad, express and other public utilities for the same quantity of service.

We hope, as every one does, that in the relatively near future prices and the costs of operation, except labor, will be lower, but we see no immediate prospects of this result as far as the Telephone Company is concerned.

The increased rates we are now asking are based, in a measure, upon this hope. If the present level of costs of operation go higher, through causes beyond our control, the proposed rates will not yield a fair profit.

It is important to remember that no rate for a public utility is permanent. If conditions and prices so change in the future as to make the rates we are now asking yield too high a return, and if the Telephone Company should not reduce the rates voluntarily, the Public Service Commission would.

Conditions as they are must be met, not as they may or should be. The highest and best interest of the public is conserved in having the Telephone Company in position to supply facilities adequate to the demand for telephones and service, and in this way be prepared to render at all times an adequate service. No community can expand and grow without adequate telephone service, which in turn means adequate plant facilities.

With inadequate returns upon the bare cost of the physical property already in service, the Company's credit has disappeared.

With no credit the Company cannot secure the millions of dollars required to provide the additions and extensions to its plant, which must be provided if the public demand for telephones is supplied.

Respectfully yours,
J. EPPS BROWN, president

Here are the facts about Amendment Number Two

1. It applies only to Jefferson County.

It merely permits her citizens to decide whether they will make permanent the improvement of the railroad, loading and shipping facilities on the Warrior-Tombigbee River system.

3. It adds no burden either on the state treasury or on any taxpayer.

4. It means a 20% saving in freight rates to shippers in nearly every section of Alabama.

COOKIES and SMALL CAKES

From the NEW ROYAL COOK BOOK

WHEN the children romp in hungry as young bears, here are some wholesome, economical delights that will not only be received with glee, but will satisfy the most ravenous appetite in a most wholesome manner.

Cookies
 1/2 cup shortening
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 cup milk
 1 egg
 1/2 teaspoon grated nutmeg
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract or
 1/2 teaspoon grated rind of 1 lemon
 1/2 cup flour
 1/2 teaspoon Royal Baking Powder

Cream shortening and sugar together; add milk to beaten eggs and beat again; add slowly to creamed shortening and sugar; add nutmeg and flavoring; add 2 cups flour sifted with baking powder; add enough more flour to make stiff dough. Roll out very thin on floured board; cut with cookie cutter, sprinkle with sugar, or put a raisin or a piece of English walnut in the center of each. Bake about 12 minutes in hot oven.

Cocoa Drop Cakes
 1/2 cup shortening
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 cup milk
 1 egg
 1/2 cup flour
 1/2 teaspoon Royal Baking Powder
 1/2 cup cocoa
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract

Cream shortening; add sugar and well-beaten egg; beat well and add milk slowly; sift flour, baking powder, salt and cocoa into mixture; stir until smooth, add vanilla. Put one tablespoon of batter into each greased muffin tin and bake in moderate oven about 20 minutes. Cover with boiled icing.

Orange Cakes
 1/2 cup shortening
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 cup milk
 1 egg
 2 cups flour
 1/2 teaspoon Royal Baking Powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon orange extract
 1/2 teaspoon grated rind of 1 orange

Cream shortening; add sugar slowly, beating well; add milk a little at a time; then add well-beaten egg; sift flour, baking powder and salt together and add to mixture; add flavoring and grated orange rind; mix well. Bake in greased shallow tin, or individual cake tins, in hot oven 15 to 20 minutes. When cool cover with orange icing.

Skim Milk Good Food.
 Some persons imagine that when the cream is taken from the top of milk the nourishment is withdrawn. Skim milk used to be regarded as scarcely better than water. The fact is that though the fat is drawn off in the cream and it should not, therefore, be substituted for full milk in the diet of a child who gets fat in no other form, skim milk is as rich in protein as is full milk, and is, therefore, for most purposes quite suitable.

The Epoch-Making Test at Masonic Theatre

Mr. Edison wanted to prove to the music-lovers of the Twin Cities that his new phonograph reproduced the art of great artists with perfect realism. The test he made was dramatic, even spectacular.

Miss Gladys Rice, sent here by Mr. Edison, stood beside the New Edison and sang. Suddenly she stopped singing. The New Edison took up the song and sang it alone. The living voice and its Re-Creation by the New Edison were thus directly compared. The human ear could detect no difference between living voice and Re-Created voice. It was both the test and the proof. And the proof marked a new epoch in music.

FEDERAL INSPECTION PREVENTS BIG WASTE

Shippers, Receivers and Others Interested Assisted.

Sworn Statements as to Condition of Fruits and Vegetables Hastens Sales, Thereby Facilitating Distribution.

More than 25,000 inspections of fruits and vegetables moving in interstate commerce were made by representatives of the bureau of markets, United States department of agriculture.

ture, during the 12 months ended June 30, 1920. This is an increase of 73 per cent over the number of inspections for the preceding year.

By the use of food products inspection service shippers, receivers and others interested can obtain sworn statements attesting the condition of perishable products received at central markets. With immediate evidence of the condition of the food sales are made promptly, thereby facilitating the distribution of the products handled. This prevents deterioration and waste on account of delays resulting from disputes, as to the condition of products, hastens the release of cars and prevents unfair trade practices.

The bureau has some 40 representatives located at 26 important market centers to make inspections upon request of those concerned with the shipments. A charge of $2.50 is made for less than half a carload and $4 for each half a carload or more.

CORN HAS MANY ADVANTAGES

Growing Period Is During Hottest Part of Year When Soil Is Dry and Thoroughly Warm.

Corn has an advantage over the small grains. Its growing period is during the warmest part of the year. The soil is then dried out and warmed thoroughly. The days are then the longest and the sun shines the warmest. All these things are needed by a plant to make growth. From this it becomes plain why corn should produce more food on an acre of land than a crop that does not take advantage of the whole growing season.

Corn has another advantage and that is that its nature of growth is such that it can be cultivated. Many may think that this is a disadvantage. The cultivation kills weeds and keeps the moisture from evaporating. While corn uses as much moisture as a grain crop, the cultivation given it reduces the amount of moisture that evaporates from the soil in this way making the corn crop a moisture saver.

The corn crop has the advantage of season of growth, enabling it to produce more per acre than the grain crops and the advantage of lending itself to being cultivated, which saves moisture and kills weeds, making it both a good producer and a crop to prepare the land for other crops.

CUT SWEET CLOVER FOR SEED

Difficult to Harvest Because Seeds Mature Unevenly—Stock Eat Some of Straw.

Sweet clover is difficult to harvest for seed because it matures its seeds unevenly. The best time to cut it for seed is when half the seed pods have turned dark, and any grain or corn harvester will bundle the clover nicely. The straw is usually woody, but stock will consume some of it. When it is too coarse for feed it makes mighty good material to plow under.

PLOWING IS EASIEST WORK

Most Satisfactory Task When Implementation and All Attachments Are Adjusted.

Plowing is one of the easiest and most satisfactory jobs on the farm, that is, if the plow, with all its attachments are in correct position and the soil is in the proper condition to be plowed.

TUBERCULOSIS IN HOG HERD

Infection Comes Principally Through Following Cattle or Devouring Carcasses.

Evidence shows that swine become infected with tuberculosis principally from cattle, either by following them in feed lots or pastures, by receiving infected dairy by-products, or by eating tuberculous carcasses.

SHRINKAGE OF GOOD HAY DOES NO INJURY

Loss of Water Does Not Affect Feeding Value.

Properly Cured Product Has Bright, Natural Green Color—Information Soon to Be Given Out by Department of Agriculture.

Shrinkage occurring in good market hay is due almost entirely to a loss of water, which has no feeding value, say specialists of the United States bureau of markets. Such shrinkage seldom causes an actual money loss to the farmer, because any loss in weight in baled hay is borne by the shipper, who usually receives the hay as soon as it is baled.

Loss of Water Causes Shrinkage in Weight of Hay, but Does Not Injure Feeding Value.

If the shipper stores baled hay for speculation, there often will be a money loss caused by shrinkage, because he has purchased an excess amount of water.

There is practically no loss of dry matter in market hay that has been properly cured. Proper curing is indicated by a bright, natural green color. Improperly cured hay may lose dry matter, but such hay is not in demand in any of the terminal markets.

The water content of hay at different periods of curing and storage, methods of making hay to prevent excessive shrinkage in storage, methods of determining shrinkage on individual farms, and other general shrinkage information of interest to all agencies engaged in the production and marketing of market hay is given in a publication soon to be issued by the department of agriculture.

MARKETING SHEEP AND HOGS

Figures Furnished by Department of Agriculture Show Cost of Loading, Feeding, Etc.

Of 54 carloads of sheep, including 11 single-deck and 43 double-deck cars, the cost of loading and bedding cars average $0.019 per 100 pounds live weight, according to figures furnished the general trade commission by the United States department of agriculture. Other marketing expenses, including freight, varied from $0.239 to $1.07 per hundredweight. The shrinkage in weight varied from 3.53 to 8.57 per cent, the majority of the shipments averaging approximately 8 per cent.

Similar records on 253 carloads of hogs showed the cost of loading and bedding to average 1.5 cents per 100 pounds live weight; feed at market approximately 8 to 9 cents; commission charges, 4 to 10 cents; miscellaneous expense, 2 to 10 cents, averaging approximately 5 cents; and the total cost of marketing including freight from varying districts approximately from 33 to 50 cents. The shrinkage in weight on 873 carloads of hogs varied from 9.88 to minus 4.59 per cent.

LATE MOLTERS ARE FAVORED

Hens That Undergo Transformation During July and August Are Not Best Layers.

It has been observed that the best layers usually molt during the latter part of September or the months of October, November and December. Hens that molt during July and August are not the profitable hens, as they rest for three or four months while they grow their new feathers and will not start in laying until the following February or March. These hens are not the kind to use either in the breeding pen or the laying pen. In some cases, the early hatched pullets of the year previous will start molting during June, and a little judgment should be exercised in such cases. A check should be made with other tests.

PROPAGATING RHUBARB ROOT

Plants Which Have Not Done Very Well This Season Should Be Dug—Replant Next Spring.

Rhubarb which has not been giving very good results during the past season, should be dug this fall, and the roots allowed to remain in the open during the winter. In the spring as soon as the ground can be prepared, the large root or mother root should be divided into from six to eight parts and planted. A root four to five years old becomes root bound and produces small stems.

Gritty Tooth Pastes No Longer Necessary

Wonderful New Kind of Liquid Dentifrice, Attacks the Cause of Tooth and Mouth Troubles Without Scratching the Teeth or Tearing Gums.

Gritty tooth-pastes act like sand-paper on your teeth. Dentifrice that relies on their abrasive qualities to cleanse the teeth, scratch the enamel and thus prepare the way for the germs of decay. And because of their coarseness, they cannot penetrate to the small crevices where infection starts.

Dentists everywhere are warning their patients not to use these pastes on their teeth. Writing in the Dental Cosmos, Dr. F. D. Miller says that: "With some of the much extolled preparations on the market, it is quite easy by applying the brush to cut the tooth half through exposing the pulp inside of two hours."

After careful research and experiment a prominent oral hygienist has developed a wonderful new kind of liquid dentifrice. This preparation is now on the market sold under the name Steroline. All leading druggists carry it.

Made from an approved and accepted formula, dentists everywhere are recommending this wonderful preparation. Hundreds of enthusiastic users have found that Steroline not only cleans the teeth thoroughly, but that it penetrates to every tiny crack and gum pocket, attacking the very cause of disease and decay.

Steroline is a mouth wash and tooth cleanser combined. A few drops on your brush used in the regular way each day, make strong white teeth and leave the whole mouth cool and refreshed. And its prophylactic qualities make it a sure preventive against disease.

Get a bottle from your druggist. Try it five days. If at the end of that time you are not completely satisfied return the card-board box to your dealer and your money will be cheerfully refunded.

October---Record Sales

It is our purpose to hang up a record this October to shoot at in later years, in spite of unsettled conditions we are winding up with the biggest October we have ever had.

This can be due only to two things, our trade buys from us, only reliable merchandise, and by following the market which is now downward, regardless of what merchandise costs us, they obtain the best obtainable values at this store.

About the best obtainable opinion in the trade is
